Welcome, introductions, announcements	Nancy Moore introduced the Fall City Newsletter to the group.	N/A
CONVEY project guest speakers: Elsa Steele & Irene Wickstrom	CONVEY highlights: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Background: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Oct, 2012: North Bend library had increased suspicious activities in/around library (e.g. increased bathroom use, intoxication) ○ Mar, 2013: Community Conversation conducted at Chief Kanim Middle School, ~60 attendees, the sheriff describes a more complete picture of the “due process” part of law enforcement that is helpful for next step planning ○ Idea?!: KCLS looks for a community partner for upcoming project ▪ Two parts to this project: on-line dialogue portal known as “CONVEY” and five in-person events ▪ The five in-person events were spread across the Valley from Duvall to North Bend. Two noticeable outcomes: 1) succeeded in sharing information and creating public dialogue per meeting, 2) North Bend funds to increase patrol. ▪ CONVEY Data and Results packets were handed out ▪ Elsa shared she was struck by the frankness of how users expressed their feelings about public institutions 	N/A
Group Discussion & Brainstorm	Highlights: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Group decided it was best to talk about the data after reviewing it. (deferred to March meeting) ▪ Barbara: Lack of youth voice in the CONVEY discussion (only one person under 30) How to harvest more input from youth? ▪ Sheriff Toner: Shared an idea about using face-to-face interviews for 	N/A

	the survey. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Sheriff Toner: shared a concern for how perception data can over-influence; he prefers a one to one approach. He shared a recent anecdote about a media headline of heroin usage that overstated the actual situation. He also shared a preference for the open-ended question format of the survey, versus the “leading the witness” nature of many surveys. ▪ Ryan: shared an idea about inviting the media to the HCC to discuss baseline news reporting in the Valley and discussion about in what ways can media partnerships contribute to health/wellness of citizens. ▪ Nancy: expressed the need for more wholesome/encouraging news reporting, not from an overly fearful/controlling perspective
Next Coalition Meeting	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ March 13th same location in Fall City Barn. 	All: read through the CONVEY on-line dialog comments in preparation for next meeting.
